The Price Drafts.

Washington, 24.—A deposition was taken before Commissioner Bradley, to-day, of James B. Price, in the suit of Walsh vs. Brady, for the recovery of money alleged to have been loaned to defendant by plaintiff. Price said he never had any financial transaction with Walsh. Counsel for Walsh presented to witness for identification sundry drafts, amounting in the aggregate to $17,500. These drafts were in the custody of Blackman, an employee of the government, as part of the records of the postoffice department. The drafts were as follows: Two postal drafts of $1,200 each, drawn at Washington on July 13th, 1880, to the order of S. B. Price and by himself endorsed against the pay on the route between Indianola and Corpus Christi, Texas, for the quarters ending September 30, '80, and December 31, '80. Witness identified these two drafts as having been drawn and endorsed by himself. Witness next identified the following additional postal drafts, each for $3,000 and dated Washington, July 26, '79, against his pay on the following named quarters on the mail route from Corpus Christi to San Antonio, Texas—the quarter ending March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31, '80, and for the quarter ending March 31, '81. These drafts all bore in addition the endorsement of J. A. Walsh. Witness being asked as to whether or not that was Walsh's endorsement, replied he was not familiar with Walsh's signature, and that Walsh could testify on that point. On being asked to whom he had given these seven drafts, he declined on the ground that he did not believe any one had a right to pry into his private affairs. Being pressed for a reply he said he declined answering on the ground that he was under indictment mainly, as he was informed, by reason of testimony given by Walsh, and further, his answer might tend to criminate himself. Quite a discussion ensued between counsel, as to the relevancy of this testimony, in the action brought by Walsh to recover money alleged to have been loaned by him to Brady; counsel for Walsh maintained that the relevancy would very soon appear, if witness would answer the question. Price betrayed some excitement. He said as far as he was concerned he would not have testified in the case at all, but for the request made by Senator Cockrell (his counsel) and Mr. Ker, counsel for Brady, who asked him what Ker had referred to. He replied "Ker, of course for government." Price, on being asked if it was not a fact that plaintiff had for over a year been trying to get his deposition in this case admitted, said it was and further said if the indictment against him (Price) was nolle prossed, he would tell all the facts relating to the drafts in question. He did not deliver any of them to General Brady, nor had he done anything that he would not do again to-morrow. Counsel for defendant Brady, then asked Price whether he had ever given Brady $2,500 in postal drafts, and $2,500 in cash. He said he had not. Counsel for plaintiff asked witness if it was not a fact that he had placed on the desk of the second assistant postmaster general Brady, an envelope containing $25,000 in a postal draft and $5,000 in cash. Defendant's counsel vigorously objected to the question but witness said he would answer it in his way, which he did as follows: He admitted that he placed on Brady's desk in the postoffice department an envelope containing $25,000 postal drafts and $5,000 in currency addressed to A. H. Brown and asked Brady to see that Brown received the same. Being asked by plaintiff's counsel who? Brown was, he replied that he was a mail contractor and had been formerly a clerk in the postoffice department. In answer to a question as to what Brady said to him in reply to his (Price's) request that Brown should get the envelope he said Brady simply granted "after his usual manner." He was asked if it were not a fact that the Brown referred to was treasurer of the fund raised by mail contractors to defray the alleged expenses incidental to the passage of the star route appropriation bill. Witness declined to answer the question for the same reason as before. Counsel for plaintiff asked the commissioner to certify the same to the court with a view of the compelling witness to answer. The commissioner declined to do this on the ground that he had no right to do so under the law. Thus the matter closed, Price declaring his intention to leave the city this evening.

Friends of General Brady commenting on to-day's proceedings in the case, contend that they were an outrage upon him. They assert that the government is a party to it; that the testimony has not the slightest bearing on the case of Walsh vs. Brady, and that the only purpose of its introduction is to injure the defence in the pending star route trial. They say also that Price refused to answer the above mentioned questions, not because his testimony would actually criminate any one, but because he believed his answers might be twisted and contorted to his prejudice and appear to criminate.

Miscellaneous.

Newburg, N. Y., 24.—A causeless rumor brought a run on the Newburg Savings Bank to-day. The institution is said to be solid.

Providence, 24.—Straight democrats will nominate Chas. R. Cutler for governor.

Pittsburg, 24.—Iron has been offered in this market during the past few days by the Republic Ore Company, for $8.50 per ton, delivered at Cleveland; $1.50 per ton less than last year. This it is believed will break the ranks of ore producers who united in holding up the price and fighting blast furnace men.

Prisoners Brought In.

Deputy United States Marshal Sorague, yesterday, brought in from Morgan County, whether he had gone for that purpose, three prisoners named respectively, John Priest, Edward Priest and Eliza Van Vleet. The arrests were made on the evening of the 23d, the charge being grand larceny, the warrant having been issued by United States Commissioner McKay. The prisoners gave bail in the sum of $200 each to appear on the 28th instant.

Tintic still advances, and from present appearances will continue to advance for a long time to come.

The Druggists.

A. C. Smith & Co., the popular druggists are comfortably settled in their new home, the late Elephant Store. They are fitting up the place in fine style, and propose that it shall be second to none in the city in any respect. As the numerous patrons of the home are aware the public always find them ready with competent and obliging attendance, and prescriptions are prepared with the skill, care and accuracy that should always be found in a drug store. A. C. Smith & Co., are deserving of their large and growing trade, for they have received it by close attention to business.

The Opera House.

The closing performance of the Opera House stock company was given last evening to a moderate audience in point of size but very appreciative and at times demonstrative as the points of the piece were made. The entertainment altogether was quite successful and considerable preparation was evinced; the rendition of the principal parts was in the main entirely satisfactory, and everything passed off as smoothly as possible.

"School" is a peculiar type of high comedy; there is nothing striking and but little that is interesting in it; without good playing and constant "gagging," it would be insufferably dull. The incidents are strictly commonplace and very indifferently arranged; but the piece went off last night for all it was worth. The company is a good one and deserves the success which we hope it will receive.

300 VOICES WANTED.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING been engaged by Mr. Theodore Thomas' agent to organize a chorus of not less than 300 adult voices, for the rehearsal of four grand choruses, to be given during the THOMAS MUSICAL FESTIVAL, in this city next June, I would be pleased if those having good voices, and who are willing to volunteer their services to assist in the Grand Musical Festival, would leave their names at David O. Calder's music warehouses. All vocalists are cordially invited to take part to make the choral portion of the Festival a success, and worthy of the great event.

Application should be made immediately, as the time for preparation is very short. C. J. THOMAS.

THOSE WOMEN FOLK.

How Hard-Headed Men estimate Some Things which they Don't Understand.

Anybody who has led a domestic life knows how common such things as backache, and pains in the chest are among the women who do the work. Often—and perhaps generally—the distresses are borne without much complaint. The women get about, and the machinery of the house goes on. Beyond this, these coarse-grained animals whom New England women call "the men folks," seldom look. So long as their wives or daughters are not actually in bed under the doctor's care, the average thick-skinned husband and father gives the subject no attention. At the same time the poor household drudge—who desires a better fate—creeps around, broom or mangle in hand, up stairs, down stairs and out-of-doors, doing the woman's work, which "is never done." Losses of loved wives and of girls—losses whose suddenness and unexpectedness astonish those wooden-pated husbands and fathers—fall, seemingly out of a clear sky, and form the logical sequel to the story of neglect.

Now, you men who stand at the head of ten thousand such homes, allow me to drop a word in your respective ears. If these women of yours are worth having, they are worth saving. That back-ache—that pain in the chest—that are they but indications of some organic trouble of the kidneys, the heart, or the lungs? End it at once by the application of BENSON'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. It will soothe that nervous distress, drive away that pain, banish that dull, weary head-ache, give new strength to the body and fresh hope to the heart. No other plaster will do this. The Benson's Plaster is not made to sell—but to heal. It is a remedy which never yet broke its promise—and never will.

Your druggist has it. But, before paying your 25 cents and putting the plaster in your pocket, look for the word CAPSICUM cut in the middle.
